Priest:

> Dark Mother!! Crone of time!! We ask your presence and your blessing! All things to you must go, though darkness and death are your domain, you promise peace and rest! Thy gift is life! Yours is the hand that turns the wheel and cuts the thread. Be with us this magickal night! Give each of us your wisdom and bless our rite! So mote it be!

All:

> So mote it be!

> Priest and Priestess circle while chanting:
> Hecate, Hecate of visage dower,
> Dark Mother, Dark Mother come in power.
> Hecate, Hecate of visage dower,
> Dark Mother, Dark Mother crone of time.

While Priest and Priestess chant, everyone else can chant also if the mood strikes.

Each person will take a sheet of parchment paper and write down that which they have outgrown and want removed. They will keep the paper with them until later when this petition will be burned and tossed into cauldron.

Priest and Priestess:

> And ever it was thus!

Priest:

> As God

Priestess:

> To Goddess

Together:

> So woman to man
> From the beginnings of the universe
> The energies joined and co-mingled > whereby we are sustained and carry on.

Priestess takes chalice:

> Dark Lady, Mother of night, we thank you for your presence and wisdom. (pouring liquid into libation bowl) as the fruit of the vine was plucked and pressed, it came to know the touch of death and thereby we are sustained and carry on!

Priest takes cakes:

> Likewise as the grain of the field ripened and fell beneath the scythe it came to know the touch of death, whereby we are sustained and carry on!

While cakes and wine are passed around all will chant:

<in retrospect this works better if you've got the music. Hebrew is hard>

> Hine matov umanayim
> Shevet akim gom yokad
> (Happy are they that dwell > together as brother and sister)

Priestess:

> And ever it was thus!

All:

> Blessed be!

Priestess stand in the west with cauldron in front of her.

Priest kneels and silently draws down . While still kneeling Priest says:

> Dark Lady of the waning moon!
> We thank you for your presence and your blessing, and in silence we turn within and willingly offer to thy realm that which is old and outdated, that which no longer has life and no longer grows.
> We offer to thy Blade that which we no longer need.

(Priest stands and lights cauldron)

Priestess draws invoking earth pentagram in front of Priest saying:

> Of the Mother darksome and divine
> Mine the scourge, and mine the kiss;
> The five-point star of love and bliss -
> Here I charge you, with this sign.

Priest:

> Here ye the words of the Dark Lady; we who of old was called among men Hecate, Persephone, Kali, and many other names.

Priestess:

> Worship me as the Crone! Tender of the unbroken cycle of death and rebirth. I am the wheel, the shadow of the Moon.
> I rule the tides of women and men and give release and renewal to weary souls.
> Though the darkness of death is my domain, the joy of birth is my gift.

Everyone in turn ignites their petition off the cauldron and tosses it into the cauldron.

Priestess embraces each person as they go by.

Priestess:

> And ever it was thus! That which falls to the hand of the crone finds regeneration and new life!

All circle and CHANT:

> She changes everything she touches and everything she touches changes!

Priestess:

> Grandmother! Blessed thou be! Depart to thy realms .
> Thank you for the lessons learned this dark night! Blessed be!
